

The York Hotel situated on Weston super Mare seafront has been painstakingly converted and renovated. Following the million pound restoration of this imposing Victorian building in 2009, The York Hotel has been developed into one of the most intimate and chic hotels in Weston super Mare, Somerset.

Located on the seafront, with panoramic views across Weston Bay, just moments from the town centre and easily accessible from the North or South – just 5 minutes from the M5 J21 makes it extremely accessible to London, Birmingham, Manchester and Wales. The York Hotel is ideally situated for a coastal holiday or base to explore the many attractions of Somerset, Devon and Dorset that are just a short distance away.

The interior design is contemporary and has a real sense of style, whilst retaining much of its original Victorian elegance.
